This is all conjecture on Mantik's part because the fact he does not "address" with any thing other than his conjectures wipes him out. But he loves the impossible conjecture so much he treats his conjectures as proven fact

Mantik

although Kaplan is dated his comment help instructive. p 382 applies to Mantik + all his associates "Case Closed" is the only book I ever stopped reading because I doubted the integrity of the author. 406 - applies to him and his associates for what they knew + omitted
